the brand:

Mirabelle was born from a longing to create slow, artisanal womenswear in the heart of a medieval sky village. I've been making clothes professionally since 2004, and today I design, pattern cut, and sew each piece by hand in my boutique / atelier.

My fabrics are carefully chosen: soft Indian cotton prints sourced from Castelnau-de-Montmiral (15 minutes away), and heavier woven textiles from the Castre mill 'Tissage d'Autan'. Each garment is a quiet celebration of craftsmanship, connection, and timeless design.

what to expect

FROM HANDMADE INTO YOUR HANDS

Timelines

All pieces are made to order, in the order they are received. Each order is handcrafted 1 by 1 and sent out on a first- come, first-served basis.

Handmade

Each garment is handmade with care. The construction is done by machine, with certain finishing touches sewn by hand. This process means that slight irregularities may occur, which is what makes each piece unique.

Quantities

The fabrics I use are made in small batches - only 30/50 meters each. This means smaller, more flexible orders are necessary.

Max order

To ensure fair access to limited fabrics and maintain the artisanal nature of my work, I ask that no more than 4 garments per size are ordered for each chosen style.

Fabric

A lot of Mirabelle fabrics are hand-printed using natural plant dyes. This process means irregularities may appear- they're part of the fabric's charm, not flaws.

Labels

Each garment comes with 3 labels: a size label (S, M, L), the mirabelle brand label and a simplified care label. The care instructions refer broadly to natural fibres- reflecting the materials I use.

Fit Testing

Each design in this collection has been carefully tested and refined over 2 years on a wide range of body shapes to ensure a flattering, comfortable fit. They feel as good as they look- thoughtfully crafted to suit real women.

Availability

If a fabric becomes unavailable, I'll suggest the closest possible alternative in terms of colour and print. We'll discuss the options together to find the best fit for your piece.

Fabric selection

MG Boutique

Milène and Jean-Luc journey each year through India — from Rajasthan to Andhra Pradesh, pausing in Gujarat — gathering fabrics born of the land.

Each is hand-woven, dyed, and printed in small family workshops and cooperatives, often with natural pigments and carved wooden blocks. From the madder-red cottons of ancient Mohenjo-Daro to today's artisans, India's textile tradition endures — 5000 years of color, craft, and human touch.

Fabric selection

Tissage d'autan

Tissages d'Autan unites passionate makers devoted to local, ecological production. Rooted in the textile heritage of Castres-Mazamet, this family workshop carries the legacy of master weavers.

In 2021, the trio revived the looms to safeguard these ancestral skills and pass them to new generations.

Tissages d'Autan now weaves natural fibers — hemp, linen, wool, organic cotton — creating fabrics that embody a new, responsible French textile era.

mirabelle testimonials

01.

Dorothy Alexander

Exquisitely handmade garments sewn with precision and passion, out of unexpectedly different but beautiful fabrics.

02.

Francesca Booth

Delighted with the beautiful outfit I bought in Mirabelle. Her clothes are all handmade and reflect her skill and attention to detail. She is charming and a pleasure to talk to. You really get a sense your money is going in the right place.

03.

Maryline Buso

The clothing is of high quality, handmade with passion, love and respect for the environment. You feel the soul and care in each piece. I highly recommend it!
